

Life is precious, so is time
But time is relative
That don't mean waste it
If time was earned
Many would have perished
As nobodies from this world
For they don't honor time
For they don't respect time
For they don't use time
Time in an aspect of Building, Earning, Growing and learning
We turn to waste time with foolish doings
Hoovering in other peoples lives
Watching over your shoulder on who is gazing your far
Even though time is relative you really can't earn it
